The holding of the Court in Pope v. Williams, 193 U. S. 621 (1904), is as valid today as it was at the turn of the century. It is no more a denial of equal protection for a State to require newcomers to be exposed to state and local problems for a reasonable period such as one year before voting, than it is to require children to wait 18 years before voting.

Core reserves are wilderness areas that supposedly allow biodiversity to flourish. It is estimated, that large carnivores and ungulates require reserves on the scale of 2.5 to 25 million acres. [Snip] "For a minimum viable population of 1000, the figures would be 242 million acres for grizzly bears, 200 million acres for wolverines, and 100 million acres for wolves. Core reserves should be managed as roadless areas. All roads should be permanently closed.

Treaty Law: The Constitution's Original Trojan Horse

The historic origins of instituting treaty power with which to violate the limits of constitutionally enumerated Federal powers

Patrick Henry "Ratified": The Treaty Power, Its Perils & Portents

How and why modern treaties can be enforced "legally" upon signature of the President, without ratification or even after rejection. Their terms can even be changed without concurrence.

Kelo and the 14th Amendment: Exploring a Constitutional Koan

On establishing corporations as 14th Amendment citizens and the Selective Incorporation Doctrine of the US Supreme Court.

Energy Racketeering: The Natural Resources Defense Council & Energy Market Manipulation in California

The consequences of the first three articles summarized in their current context. How the system works today using the example of NRDC machinations in the California energy market.

Titus Lucretius Carus and "Nature" as Urbane Myth

The origin of the modern belief that Nature is self-optimizing and separate from people is in the writings of a 1st Century BC Roman poet, Titus Lucretius Carus. His teaching was adopted by the Enlightenment philosophers of the 18th Century, in part as a means to demean religion. This is an examination of their errors in that adoption, the Jewish origins of at least part of Lucretius' teachings, and the damage being done to wildland habitat due to the modern urban myth that "Nature" is best left undisturbed.

Knowledge Economy: A Workable Plan to Transform Education

This is as revolutionary an approach as you will ever see. It privatizes the system from the bottom up and the inside out into a customer-focused array of individualized products and methods.

A Well Regulated Militia: Bringing Our Country Together... with the Second Amendment?

The Second Amendment was instituted to emulate the Swiss model, mandating military training for the entire able-bodied male population to sustain a national defense and unite a diverse nation.

A Letter to Brent McCoy

A discussion of the Clinton Administration's "protection" of Giant Sequoia (S. gigantea) near Kings Canyon National Park.

Free Advertising

A look at the ecological damage done by media promulgation of eco-mythology in opposition to timber harvesting.

Klamath Basin

Most controversial environmental policy debates are driven by a hidden agenda, no matter how visible. This is an example of how activist claims can create results that work contrary to their ostensible objectives.

Get a Cat - Get MORE Quail?

Yes, over the spans of three working lifetimes (three successive feral cats), that is exactly how it has worked here. The better hunter the kitty is, the more birds we see.

An Interview with Mark Vande Pol

Where I stand on a wide range of political and economic topics: a nerd for all reasons?

Klamath Basin is a Watershed Event

Many environmental policies are driven by a hidden agenda. How activist claims created results that preclude their supposed objectives.

"Birthright Citizenship": A Fraud on the Constitution

How the Fourteenth Amendment Citizenship Clause made you government property. We need immigrant citizens, not illegal aliens.
